The ATS has several different ways you can recruit physicians for your medical group. The two main ways are recruitment advertising in our journals and posting on the ATS Job Board. The Job Board is a member of the National Healthcare Career Network, a consortium of over 170 medical associations, and contains thousands of searchable resumes and job postings specific to pulmonary, critical care, and sleep medicine. You may choose to post your job on the ATS Job Board and the NHC Network, or only on the ATS Job Board. Information on posting to the ATS Job Board can be found here - <https://careers.thoracic.org/employers/>.

Display ads can contain artwork (for example, logos or special fonts) and can also include color.
